

Pocket Rave

Belarusian electronic musician and live performer, founder of Electronic Live Sessions — a Kraków event series uniting hardware electronic live artists across Poland

Kraków, Poland

hardware live · hypnotic techno · experimental electro · breakbeat

Inspired by: OK EG, Priori, Konduku, Kia, Volodymir Gnatenko, Polygonia, Etapp Kyle

Live set:

Pocket Rave delivers raw, textured electronic music performed on a fully hardware setup, using synthesizers, sequencers, drum machines, and samplers.

Each set is unique. Tracks are shaped and transformed in real time, somewhere between a live jam and a studio session unfolding in front of the crowd. Partly intimate, the sound moves through hypnotic techno, experimental electro, acid, breakbeat, and trance, staying emotional, physical, and a bit unpredictable.

It adapts to the space, working equally well in dense, shadowy clubs and on open-air stages, where the same energy takes on a different scale.

Synced live visuals (optional):

When the venue allows, the set can be supported by real-time generative visuals programmed in Python and played through a portable video synthesizer. Reactive projections are synchronized to the music, turning the performance into a fully immersive audio-visual experience.
